Last June 11, 2011, 67 employees from 8 companies participated in the Coastal Reforestation at San Vicente in Olango Island.

Mr. Mario Marababol of Ocean Care Advocates gave an orientation why we should plant mangroves. He cited that mangroves are the nursery of aquatic animals. It is also a source of food, a natural water filter, and it helps stabilize the coast and river banks. Mangroves reduces the strength of typhoons by 20%, reducing the damage from violent storms. Majority of the mangrove forest destruction was due to fishpond conversion, cutting mangroves for cooking and construction, using mangroves as fodder and natural deworming agent and reclamation.
